A SPECIAL INVITATION FROM OUR CLUB PRESIDENT, JIM TSOUVALAS

"THE EXCITEMENT IS BUILDING"

The construction of our new clubrooms is just the beginning...

Securing this new facility didn't come easy. But now, as we stride boldly towards our 25th anniversary year as a club, we also find ourselves on the front foot and a future that will continue to reward those who are most willing and able to strive towards victory.

Like never before, we are a forward-looking community-based club that will not rest until we have achieved our goals. In the years ahead, our clubrooms will prove to be a strong feature of our club - and this robust new structure will continue to stand tall as a symbol of our own strength and determination to push on.

And push on is what we must continue to do. We are calling on all Comets supporters to mark this time and further the vision of our club and community by becoming a Spartan. As such, you will mark your own place in the Comets clubrooms, that's also now marked in time.

As your Club President, I encourage you to become one of the exclusive few who are destined for something bigger. By securing your place in history we will mark the most important milestone that this club has ever seen. Our clubroom shield will be an enduring symbol of our strength and success, but also of our unity. Whatever the future brings, this shield will remind us to both protect and fight for the things we believe in most - our club and our community.

Your Club President,
Jim Tsouvalas

MARK YOUR TURF

Our vision for the future has been overwhelmingly captured by the highly talented and multi-award-winning Studio Nine Architects. They are responsible for many other new and iconic buildings in South Australia. The Comets clubroom facility is now one of them. Their work and the work of many others who have contributed to the construction and realisation of these clubrooms have our utmost appreciation.

Towering high above, at a striking 10 metres above ground level at its highest point, the Comets are making a clear statement of strength through authentic earth-bound materials of metal, timber, stone and glass. Here, in the heart of Adelaide, the sheer scale of the building will not only mark our turf, it also sends a clear message to our adversaries - we are not a club to be easily reckoned with.

During this time of greatness, we're asking you to become a Spartan supporter. Like our clubrooms, you will rise above all others and be recognised for your undying support of the Comets. This is your time to live forever in the hearts and minds of our club.

TOUCH IMMORTALITY

Only 300 Spartan lives can be honoured. They will receive the most revered recognition that our club can offer and will be immortalised on a shield that is celebrated for life. This permanent, commemorative shield reflects the origins of our club insignia with the Spartan sword and shield. All that's missing is you. But there are only limited numbers.

The shield will not only become an unmissable and enduring symbol of our strength, but also of your devotion to the club. Standing tall at an imposing 2.7 metres high and 2 metres wide, it will overlook the first-floor multi-purpose area as a permanent fixture on the northern wall that everyone will be able to see and touch for all-time.
